

CURRICULUM VITAE

Associate Professor Dr Ung Ngie Min, Malaysia

Dr Ung Ngie Min is an associate professor of medical physicist in the department of clinical oncology at University Malaya, Kuala Lumpur. He obtained his Master of medical physics from University Malaya then PhD in Medical Physics from university of western Australia. Dr Ung is actively involved in academics, research and supervision related to application of physics in radiotherapy. His special interest lies in IGRT, Dosimetry, Brachytherapy and plan verification in radiotherapy. He is an affiliate International member in AAPM and life member to Institute of Physics, Malaysia. Dr Ung published extensively in National and International peer reviewed journals and supervised research for PhD and Postdoc students in medical physics.