

CURRICULUM VITAE

Professor Dr Dayanand Sharma, India

Prof Sharma is a professor of radiation oncology working at All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS), New Delhi India. Obtained postgraduation training from Postgraduate Institute of Medical Sciences, Rohtak, India. Then he joined as a senior resident and then faculty in All India Institute of Medical Sciences, New Delhi. He obtained his fellowship in brachytherapy from Ohio State University, USA and practiced on various techniques of brachytherapy in his institute. He has expertise on gynecological oncology, breast cancer and sarcomas. During his span of academic carrier, he could able to publish more than 200 papers in peer reviewed journals and presented his research papers in National and International events. He received numerous awards, recognition and fellowship from reputed organizations like UICC, ASTRO, AIIMS and ICMR for his contributions to the field of radiation oncology. Now he is the vice-president of Indian College of Radiation Oncology.